For Abby

Esme lives in a house in the woods.

Can you find Esme in this picture?

Abby is Esme's best friend.

A photograph of two dogs in a wooded area with dry leaves on the ground. A light-colored dog is on the left, and a dark-colored dog is on the right. Both have speech bubbles above them. The light-colored dog's bubble says "Where are we?". The dark-colored dog's bubble says "It's just over here...I think.".

Where are we?

It's just over here...I think.

Sometimes they run off and get lost.

Can you find Abby in this picture?

Two Weimaraner dogs are sitting on a light-colored tiled floor in a kitchen. The dog on the left is light-colored and has a tan collar with a green tag. The dog on the right is dark-colored and has a red collar. Both dogs have wide-eyed, questioning expressions. In the background, there is a white stove, a wooden cabinet with firewood, and a white pet gate.

What was that?

I don't know. Let's go find out.

They were both being good dogs, when they heard a noise.
